Coriander is a series of vases inspired by the soft light of early mornings. Master Crepax chose to recreate the quiet feeling of that time of the day, right before the dawn, when the sky starts to clear and nature slowly awakens. Coriander is truly a unique series of pieces, that can either work together or stand proudly alone in a room. Thanks to the different dimensions of each one, and the rounded shape, these vases can adapt into any décor. The small opening at the top of each vase takes you back to Prune's design: there is no swirl, but rather a more linear shape.
